

BLUE DOLPHIN ENERGY COMPANY

CODE OF CONDUCT

This Code of Conduct of Blue Dolphin Energy Company (the “Company”) covers a range of business practices and procedures affecting all directors, officers and employees of the Company (collectively, the “Covered Persons”). It does not cover every issue that may arise, but it sets out basic principles to guide the Covered Persons. The Company expects all Covered Persons to act in accordance with the highest standards of personal and professional integrity, to comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations, to deter wrongdoing and abide by this Code of Conduct and all other policies and procedures adopted by the Company that govern the conduct of its directors, officers and employees.

Honest and ethical conduct; conflicts of interest. In carrying out their duties and responsibilities, all Covered Persons should engage in and promote honest and ethical conduct, including the ethical handling of actual or apparent conflicts of interest relating to personal and professional relationships. All Covered Persons should strive to identify and raise potential issues before they lead to problems.

A conflict of interest occurs when an individual’s personal interest is adverse to, or otherwise in conflict with, the interests of the Company. Covered Persons should avoid taking actions that would create actual or apparent conflicts of interest. In those rare occasions in which an unanticipated conflict of interest may arise, the affected Covered Person should promptly bring the situation to the attention of the Company’s President, Senior Financial Officer, or any member of the Company’s audit committee (the “Audit Committee”) so that appropriate steps may be taken to eliminate the conflict or take other preventative or appropriate action. Conflicts of interest may involve not only situations in which a Covered Person has a direct personal interest, but also those in which a family member of a Covered Person has an interest or those in which a Covered Person has an indirect interest, such as through a corporation, partnership or other entity.

Full and fair disclosure. It is the Company’s policy that the information in its public communications, including filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, be timely, understandable, fair, complete and accurate in all material respects. All Covered Persons should exercise diligence and care to do their part in acting in furtherance of this policy. Covered Persons (a) are prohibited from knowingly misrepresenting, omitting, or causing others to misrepresent or omit, material facts about the Company to anyone having a role in the Company’s financial reporting and disclosure processes and (b) must not directly or indirectly take any action to coerce, manipulate, mislead or fraudulently influence the Company’s or its subsidiaries’ independent auditors or any internal accounting or auditing personnel for the purpose or with the effect of rendering the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries misleading, or direct anyone else to do so.

It is the responsibility of each Covered Person to promptly bring to the attention of a member of the Audit Committee any material information of which the individual may become aware that affects the disclosures made by the Company in its public filings or otherwise, and to otherwise assist the Audit Committee in fulfilling its responsibilities. In addition, each Covered Person shall promptly bring to the attention of a member of the Audit Committee any information he or she may have concerning (a) significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal controls which could adversely affect the Company’s ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information or (b) any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the Company’s financial reporting, disclosures or internal controls.

Compliance with laws and regulations. Covered Persons should comply with all applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations. Although no single individual is expected to know the details of all policies, laws, rules and regulations, it is important to know enough to determine when to seek advice or guidance. Each Covered Person should promptly bring to the attention of appropriate senior management or to a member of the Audit Committee evidence of any material violations, by the Company or anyone acting on its behalf, of Company policies, or any laws, rules or regulations applicable to the Company.

Reporting of violations of this code. Each Covered Person is responsible for reporting any violation of this Code of Conduct, or circumstances which such individual considers to involve a possible violation, to a member of the Audit Committee. A person may choose to remain anonymous in reporting violations or circumstances that may involve a violation, and such person may do so by sending an anonymous concern to Chris Morris, Chairman of the Audit Committee, at or such other email address that the Company may post on its website from time to time.

Accountability. Each Covered Person will be held accountable for his or her adherence to this Code of Conduct. The failure to observe the terms of this Code of Conduct may result in disciplinary action, up to and including in the case of employees, termination of position with the Company. Violations of this Code of Conduct may also constitute violations of law that may result in civil and criminal penalties.

Waivers. If a Covered Person suspects that he or she has been retaliated against for reporting possible misconduct, the Covered Person should contact a member of the Audit Committee or report the suspected retaliation by sending an anonymous concern to Chris Morris, Chairman of the Audit Committee, at c.morris999@gmail.com or such other email address that the Company may post on its website from time to time.

Compliance Procedures. All Covered Persons are encouraged to talk to supervisors, managers or other appropriate personnel about observed illegal or unethical conduct. The Company and all Covered Persons must work together to ensure prompt and consistent action against violations of this Code of Conduct. However, in some situations it is difficult to know if a violation has occurred. Since it is not possible to anticipate every situation that will arise, the Company has set forth below a way to approach new questions or problems. The following are guidelines you should follow in connection with your responsibilities under this Code of Conduct:

- Make sure you have all the facts. In order to reach the right solutions, we must be as fully informed as possible.

- Ask of yourself: What specifically am I being asked to do? Does it seem unethical or improper? This will enable you to focus on the specific question you are faced with, and the available alternatives. Use judgment and common sense.
- Discuss the problem with your supervisor. This is the basic guidance for all situations. In many cases, your supervisor will be more knowledgeable about the question, and will appreciate being brought into the decision-making process.
- Seek help from Company resources. In the event that it may not be appropriate or you do not feel comfortable discussing an issue with your supervisor, contact the Company's Compliance Officer or an Audit Committee member.
- Always ask first, act later. If you are unsure of what to do in any situation, seek guidance before you act.

As adopted by the Company's Board of Directors.
